

The Graduating Class of

Detroit, Michigan

Presents...

The new school seal, as it appears in its original color scheme on the cover, was designed at the beginning of this year by Father Earley.

It is divided vertically into two halves. The left half incorporates the seal of the Archdiocese of Detroit. The black and gold colors have been taken from the coat-of-arms of Michigan's spiritual father, St. Isaac Jogues. The three stars (The Holy Trinity), the cross (the Christian Faith), and the antlers (the state of Michigan) were also copied from the Jogues' family shield.

The meaning of this part of the seal is both historical and spiritual. The cross proclaims the Catholic Faith, and the antlers represent the State of Michigan. The fact that St. Isaac Jogues brought the Catholic Faith to Michigan is symbolized by the gold and black colors together with the figures that were taken from his family seal. The three black martlets (mystical birds), indirectly symbolize the City of Detroit, since they have been taken from the coat-of-arms of the founder of the city, Cadillac.

The right half of the new seal is copied from the coat-of-arms of the patron of our school, St. Francis De Sales. The red and blue colors, the crescent, and the stars all belong to the original De Sales' family seal. The crescent and the two stars symbolized the house of Sales' devotion to the Blessed Mother. We have adopted them to signify Salesian High School's devotion to Our Lady under the title of her Immaculate Conception.

The new school motto, appearing directly beneath the seal, has been taken from a list of rules that St. Francis De Sales drew up for himself when he was eighteen years old. It is composed chiefly of rules to be kept in conversation and general contact with his friends and any other persons he might meet. In the course of setting down these rules of practical guidance he goes on to say: "There is no rule that does not have its exception, except this one: Nothing against God."

This is certainly a fitting model for the Knights of Salesian because it emphasizes clearly that a knight's service belongs first, foremost and always to His Lord and Master, God.

Introducing Salesian High School's New Symbol

The Knight

The historians have had a great deal of difficulty, and we might say little success, in their attempt to discover the real origins of knighthood. The information we have concerning knighthood begins in the 12th and 13th centuries when it played an essential part in feudal living.

The reason we have adopted the Knight as the symbol of our lives here at Salesian is because it fits the meaning of our school life better than any other. The knight, to the ordinary citizen of our country, has come to signify, more and more, the ideals of a Christian gentleman.

Since the patron of our school is St. Francis De Sales, the Gentleman Saint, we feel that we have a very special right to call ourselves "the Knights". It is in the best tradition of De Sales that we adopt and adapt as a fitting ideal for our religious, educational and social life . . . the knight.

The usual knight is pictured on a horse with his sword unsheathed, ready for battle; but our idea of a knight is best expressed as it is here . . . kneeling. The knight's posture here symbolizes the fundamental and essential relationship that ought to exist between a creature and his Creator, Service. Everything that a knight is, everything that he has, is placed at the service of his Lord and Master, Christ, Who as God is the Creator as well as the Redeemer of all men.

We, the students of Salesian High School, hereby adopt the knight as our school symbol. The symbol of the obedience we owe to our parents and teachers, the symbol of the kindness and thoughtfulness that must be ours in our relations with one another as well as with all other men, the symbol of the loyalty we owe to our Nation and the service we owe to our God.

....and Dedicated to: Our Lady-In-Waiting

The Eternal Virgin

Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception as the object of our knightly love and devotion in this the Centenary Celebration of her appearance to St. Bernadette Soubirous at Lourdes, France, to whom she revealed herself on March 25, 1858 in these words:

"I Am the Immaculate Conception"

The ethical ideals that arose from knighthood represented a fusion of Christian and military ideals. These still form the basis of the ethics of gentlemanly conduct in our own twentieth century. The chief chivalric virtues are obedience, bravery, loyalty and honor. Love also played a very important part in the life of a knight. But, in its chivalrous sense, love was largely platonic. As a rule, only a virgin could be chosen the object of chivalrous love.

To you, then, Mary, the Eternal Virgin, we humbly dedicate this book, and in dedicating it we offer you our love and loyalty. We salute you as the greatest of God's creative works, and the only one of God's creatures who has been conceived without sin. We recognize that it is your compassion for all men, your unmatched humility and above all your unparalleled obedience to the will of your creator that has caused you to be raised above all men and angels and crowned the Queen of Heaven.

We renew our promise of love and loyalty and in return ask the same of you. Continue to watch over us and pray that we may never forget the message of penance you left us at Lourdes and Fatima.

Mary Conceived Without Sin

...and presenting

The Patron of Salesian High School

St. Francis De Sales

The Gentleman Saint

St. Francis De Sales in his own day was a real knight. He lived between the years 1567 and 1622, years during which knighthood and chivalry were still a part of daily living. The horse was for him then what the automobile is to us now. He rode often and well. He was a good dancer. He knew how to handle a sword and proved his prowess to the surprise of his fellow students who mistakenly considered his gentleness a cloak for cowardice. He is considered by many to be the most learned man of his age.

He lived at the height of the Protestant Revolt and, using gentleness as his only weapon, brought back to the Church of Christ over 70,000 souls. When asked by a sincere Protestant if he would turn the other cheek as Christ directs His followers, he answered: "I do not know what I would do, but I do know what I should do."

This is the man who is the patron of our school, the model of the manly qualities that lead to knighthood, the model of a Christian gentleman.

It is in following him that we hope to realize in our own lives the true meaning of knighthood: Service to God, and gentleness in dealing with our neighbor.

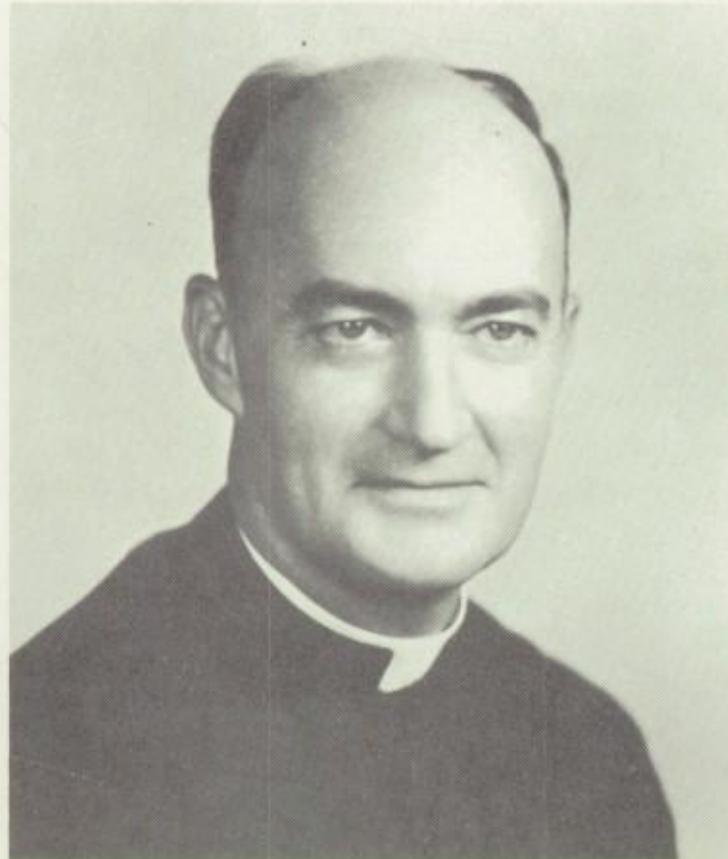

And His Religious Sons

The Very Reverend Dominic Balducelli, O.S.F.S., is the Superior General of the Oblates of St. Francis De Sales. Although he resides at Rome, Italy, his interest is evident in whatever part of the world his sons continue to spread the wise teachings of St. Francis De Sales.

The Very Reverend William D. Buckley, O.S.F.S., is the Provincial of the American Province. It is to him that we at Salesian owe our thanks for providing us with an outstanding faculty. May Our Lord continue to bless the work of the Oblates in America under your watchful care.

The Reverend Walter E. Kelly, O.S.F.S., is the Principal of Salesian High School. This is your second year at Salesian, Father, and your untiring efforts in our behalf are beginning to show real results in our own changed attitude towards study as well as in the many physical improvements throughout the school. We, the Knights of '58, want you to know that we are grateful for everything.

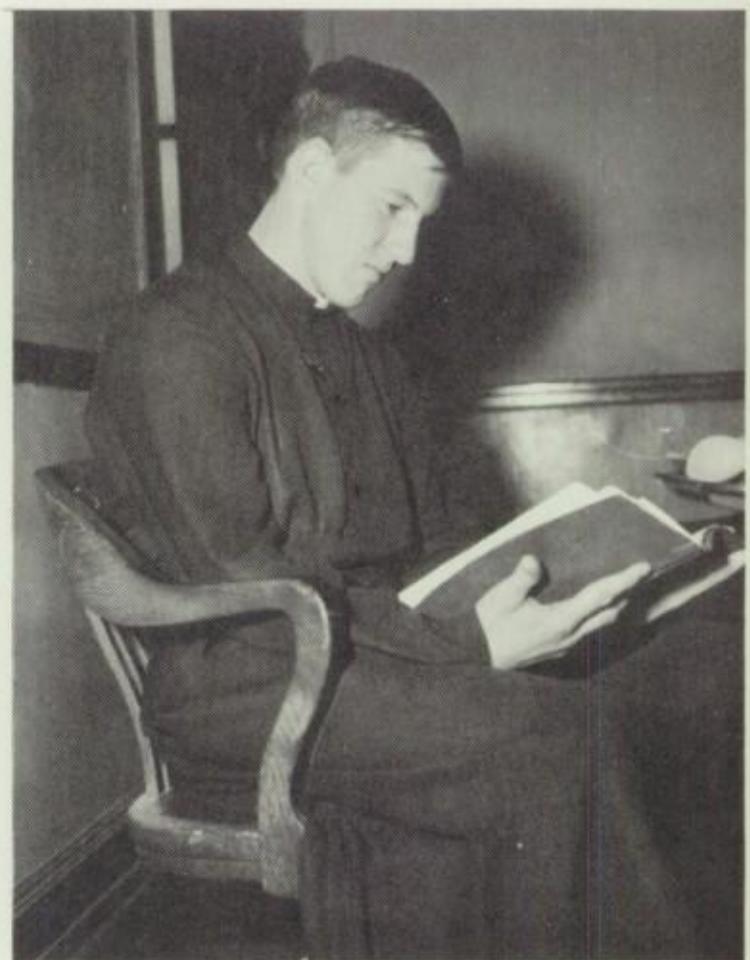

The Very Reverend Daniel J. Earley, O.S.F.S., is the religious superior of the Oblates in Detroit as well as the Assistant Principal and the Prefect of Discipline. Your kindness and understanding in your dealings with the Class of '58 will always be remembered. Thanks, Father.

The Four Steps To Salesian Knighthood

In the Middle Ages, when military feudalism held sway in Europe, the sons of nobility were educated for chivalry.

The education of a future knight was begun at an early age. When he was still a child, he was sent to the castle of his father's overlord where he was trained in all the arts of knighthood. For the first few years, his education would be in the hands of the lady of the castle, whom he served as a PAGE, and who taught him polite manners and the social arts.

At fourteen, he began the really essential part of his training—the handling of arms. He then became one of the SQUIRES of the lord who had undertaken to train him. He accompanied his lord everywhere, serving him at meals and when he rose in the morning or retired at night. It was the squire's duty to keep the weapons and armor of his lord polished and in good repair. He also followed his lord when he rode to war, carried his shield, helmet and spear, and led the great war-horse, which was not mounted till the time came to charge. If the lord were thrown from his horse in a battle or tournament, he was expected to rescue him and help him into the saddle. He was not expected to take part in the fighting except in an emergency.

The third and highest rank of chivalry was knighthood. This was usually not conferred before the twenty-first year. The person to be knighted prepared himself by confessing, fasting, and keeping vigil all night. Religious rites were performed, and then, after promising to be faithful to his lord, to protect ladies and orphans, never to lie nor utter slander, to live in harmony with his equals, to protect the church, he received the "accolade", a slight blow on the shoulder with the flat of the sword, from the lord who dubbed him KNIGHT.

These then are the historically accurate steps to knighthood. The necessity of discovering or inventing a fourth step to Salesian Knighthood is the result of the modern classification of high school students into freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

For our fourth step we have chosen serfdom, and the individuals who are part of this step we have dubbed "SERFS". Although serfs ordinarily never had any chance to become knights in the Middle Ages, We the Class of '58 hereby decree that Salesian Knighthood can only be obtained by passing through an additional step henceforth to be known as Serfdom.

On the following pages you will find the knights in their twentieth century uniform of chivalry — the tux.

The Squires, the Pages, and the Serfs are shown in their class pictures and their respective intellectual duties that are but the steps to knighthood here at Salesian.

The '58 Senior Class Officers

L. to R., Greg Stempien (Vice-President), John Maierle (President), Jim Murphy (Treasurer), and Dick Massey (Secretary) are making plans for the Senior Activities of 1958. Good planning backed up by plenty of work always results in a good time for all.

John Maierle listens intently while Greg Stempien makes a few points before the final vote. There is plenty of give and take at our senior meetings and you can be sure that most of our meetings are not as peaceful as this one looks.

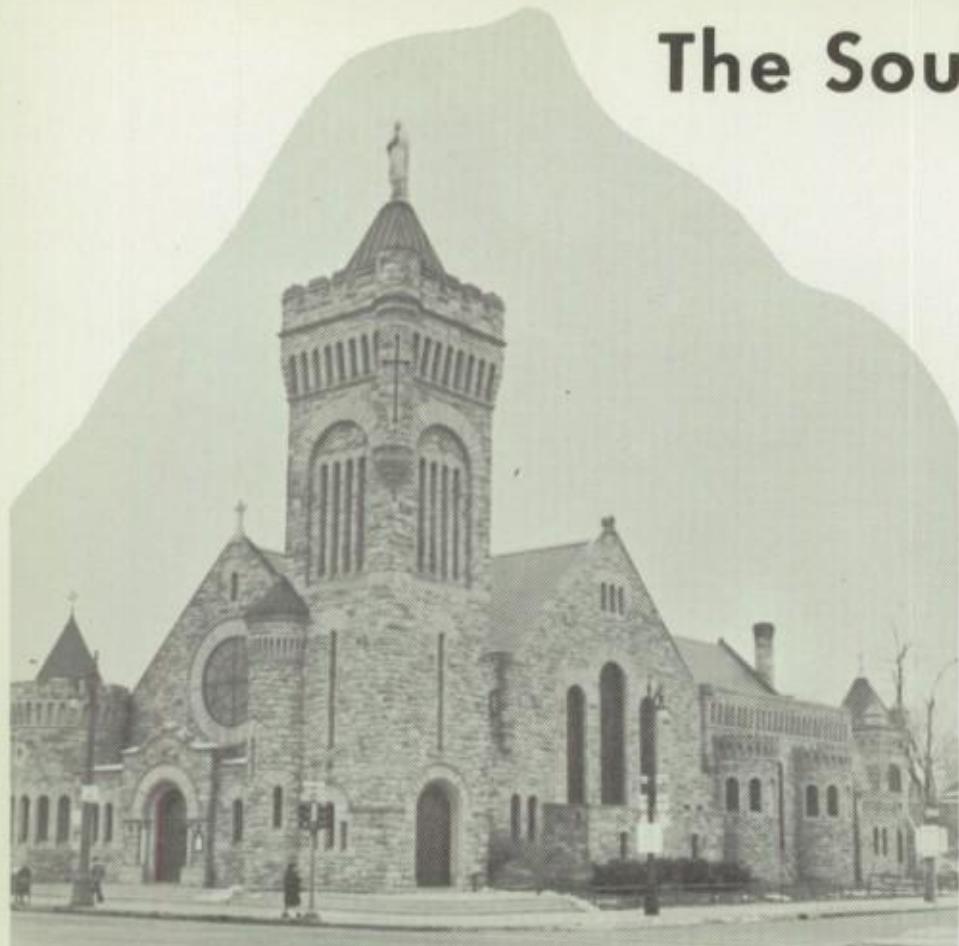

The '58 Graduation Ring

This year's graduation ring was changed in keeping with the adoption of the new school symbol (the knight) and the new school seal. Both of these are engraved on the '58 graduation ring.

Father Coyle, the Senior Class Moderator, is handing Father Kelly the blessed ring which will soon be placed on Joe Fouchia's left third finger. Joe Wozniak checks to see that no mistakes are made.

The Source of Knightly Strength...

Holy Rosary Church

Holy Rosary Church, located on the corner of Woodward Avenue and Medbury Street, is the setting for most of Salesian's religious activity. Every Friday morning we hear Mass and receive Holy Communion here. The Stations of the Cross are held every Wednesday during Lent. Our Annual Ring Ceremony, Retreat, and Baccalaureate Mass take place in this beautiful church.

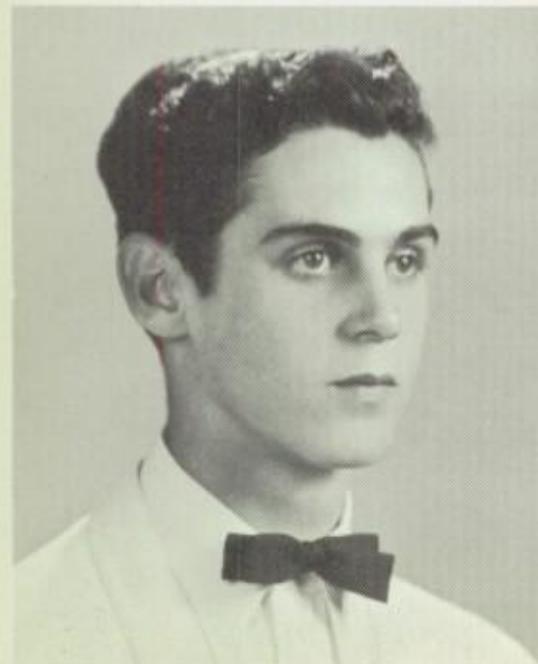

May we take this opportunity to thank the Pastor of Holy Rosary Parish without whose kind permission our religious activity would be greatly reduced. Thank you, Father De Mars. We at Salesian are most grateful for the use of your church.

Father Schaefer intones the Gloria during one of our weekly Masses. Jerry Dolkowski and Joe Ptak together with Bob and Eugene Boduch are serving the Mass.

Religion:

God's way with man!

Man's way to God!

The title of this year's senior religion text is closely related to our idea of Knighthood . . . The title is SERVICE. An important part of senior religion deals with matrimony.

Below, the seniors seem unusually attentive as Father Coyle explains a passage in the text dealing with the Church's right to legislate on marriage.

The Seven Sacraments

The Church uses many sacred vessels in the administration of the Seven Sacraments. Here, the sophomores are learning about the history and use of the chalice in the sacrifice of the Mass under the expert guidance of Father Schaefer.

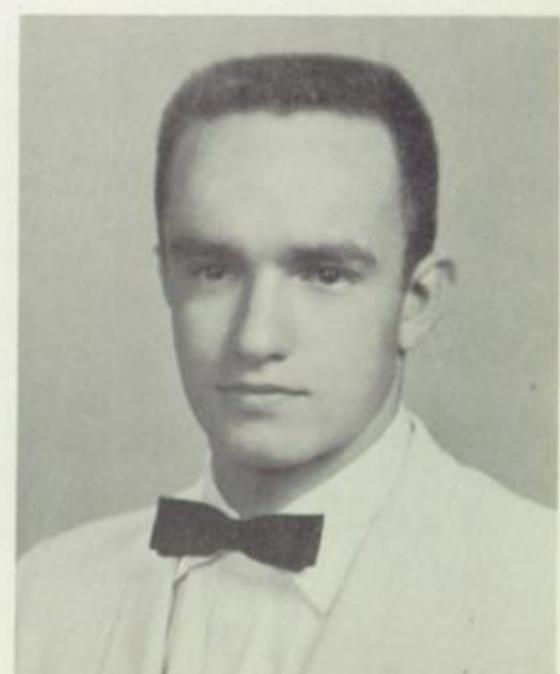

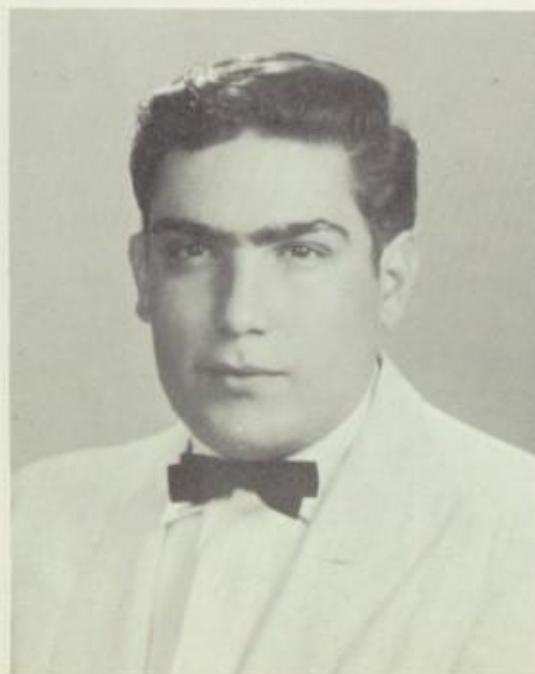

The more the Commandments of God are repeated, the more interesting they seem to become. Here Mr. Cirullo explains to wide-eyed freshmen the far reaching effects which God's laws have had on society since they were first given to Moses on Mount Sinai.

Seniors Take Over At the Assemblies

We took time out during one of our many assemblies to snap this one. The big seniors usually manage to get the front seats of the assemblies and this one was no exception.

This year we had one of the finest programs of general and special assemblies in the history of the school. We had interesting visits from the Detroit Traffic Department; the General Electric Company, the Detroit Edison Company, the Propagation of the Faith Office, Mr. Albert Weatherly, the publisher of the '58 Saldet, Mr. Edward Freer, the staff assistant in the Educational Relations Section of General Motors, as well as the assemblies preceding the important football games and the opening basketball game, and the normal pre-holiday assemblies that form a part of every high school schedule.

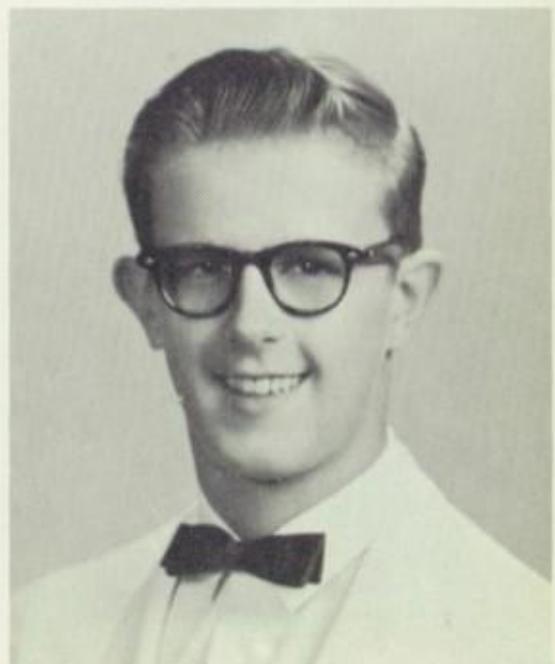

This year's program was as diversified as it was interesting. Everything was discussed from the necessity of a high school education to the latest scientific and technological advancements in the fields of chemistry and physics. Our hope is that future assemblies continue on the high plane that has been maintained during this past year.

English Grammar, Composition

Most American boys are rather bored when the subject of English grammar rules is brought to the fore. Probably the reason for this normal American reaction is that so many students take for granted they know how to speak correct English. Father

The seniors are checking into some of the college material sent from Universities all over the United States. Jerry Kowalewski seems disinterestedly aware that his picture is being taken, while Al Pelletier hides behind that famous grin, his own awareness of the same.

Going To College?

John Pastirzyk, Jerry Filipek, Bob Brennan, Wa Wa Wawrzniak, Mike Collins, Pat Colburn and Edgar Bourke are looking into the latest information posted on the guidance bulletin board. News of scholarships, possibilities in industry, college requirements, entrance exam dates as well as business school opportunities make this bulletin board the best-read in the school.

Seniors Give Father Kelly the Bird

Father Kelly seems surprised and pleased as he reads the certification papers for his new parakeet as well as the name of the presently much-scared bird, Dopey.

Best wishes from the Senior Class, Father, and may Dopey afford you many pleasant hours of recreation from your arduous duties.

Hello!

Jerome Johnson was caught by the school camera as he was making a phone call to "you know who".

The school phone is the most used piece of equipment on the property. This is particularly noticeable the day before, and the day of, one of our dances. It seems that even girls are no exception to the student habit of waiting until the last minute.

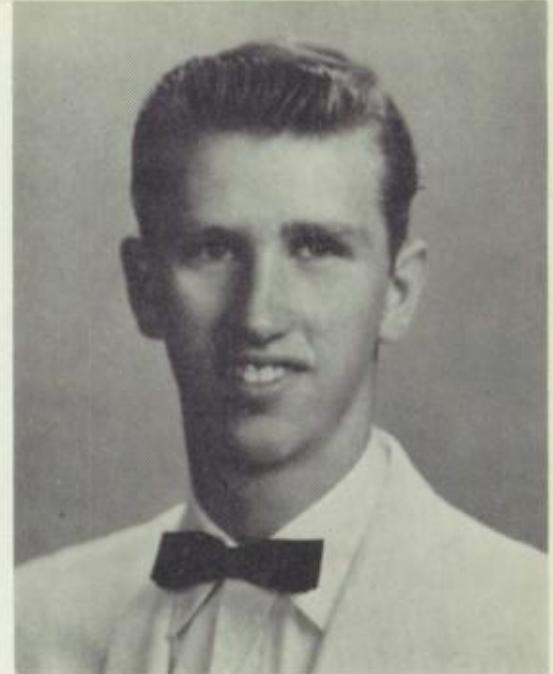

There is one sport around Salesian that has no off season and that is "Screaming" . . . putting one of the boys down, not by physical force, but by the adroit use of a word or phrase.

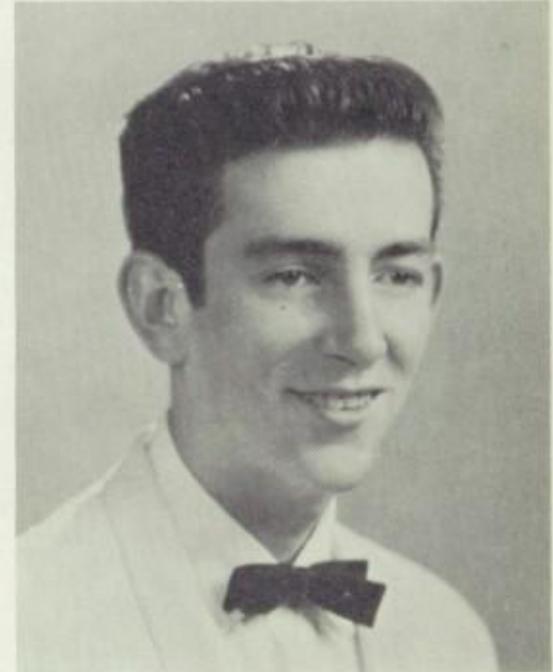

Here, Jim Doll is beginning a scream on what looks like the most tired student in the school . . . Jim Cipkowski.

Last Year's Seniors Return

We are always glad to see our friends return for a visit. This picture was taken at one of our dances. Roy Chouinard, Tom Leen, Dick Housey, Joe Albright, Ralph Lucchese, Jim (Peter-Paul) Parker and Mark Keller were talking with Father Coyle, and recalling some of the good old days until some of them noticed that their picture was being taken.

Way Back When....

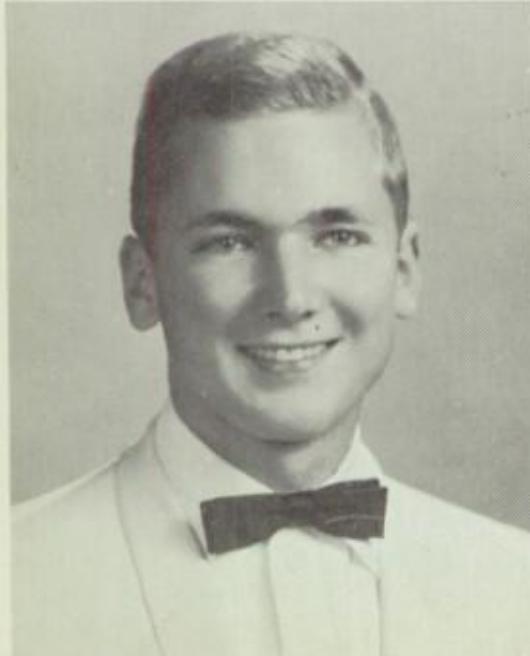

These are pictures of the present seniors "Way Back When" they were sophomores.

Notice the angelic faces, the dress and the general demeanor of these young lads. The wearing of a tie then was voluntary, and certainly there was no need to go all out and wear a suit coat.

My, my, how things have changed. Today, everyone must wear a coat and tie; and, in all honesty, let's admit, fellows, it's not a bad rule after all.

The Book Store

"You name it, we have," Father Fleck tells John Turrall as Dennis Wozniak (behind the counter) and Joe Monsour look on.

Father Fleck has managed to make the bookstore more attractive to the students than it has ever been. He has increased the number and variety of the commodities so that there is little a student would want in the line of school supplies, athletic equipment, and school monogrammed sweaters and jackets that is not immediately available.

Toledo Comes To Detroit

NORBERT T. WEISO
Intramural Basketball 2; Dance Committee 3,4; Drama 3,4; Guard 4.

It is a pleasure to greet old friends. Father Kelly and Father Earley have just greeted Father Stahl, founder of Salesian High School, and at present a Toledo Pastor, and Father Ward, the principal of St. Francis De Sales High School in Toledo. They are on their way to the press box from which they intend to watch Salesian play St. Francis De Sales in the annual football game.

They Also Serve Who Only Stand and Wait!

The serious mien of these former juniors is strong evidence of the professional type of service they rendered during last year's baccalaureate breakfast. They are ably assisted by Mr. Johnson a representative of the Pillsbury Company, and two Junior Mothers: Mrs. Kronner and Mrs. Doll. The seniors of last year were high in their praise for a job well done!

Faculty vs. Students

Mr. Walz taps the ball to Father Catanzaro in the annual faculty-student game. Father Toner and Mr. Scanlon are ready for immediate action.

Mr. Schimscheiner is in the process of making his famous jump-shot pass through the hoop for two more points. Faculty won 54 to 29.

Father Schaefer is set for another faculty strike in the Faculty-Student Bowling Tournament. The fac-

Salesian's Junior Ambassador To Switzerland

Joe Wozniak, with good reason, overcomes the language barrier while sitting out a dance given at Lausanne-Ouchy High School in Switzerland.

Joe spent twelve memorable days touring Switzerland as a reward for his outstanding sales achievement for the Detroit Times newspaper. His courtesy, enthusiasm, and fine bearing made him an ideal Junior Diplomat. We at Salesian are justly proud of the achievements of this outstanding junior. Congratulations, Joe.

Discipline: an essential role in the formation of a Knight

Discipline at Salesian is under the capable direction of Father Earley who is assisted by Mr. Rigney. Father's keen sense of justice coupled with an unusual understanding of boys and their special problems is the backbone of Salesian's system of discipline. The primary purpose of discipline is not punishment but the formation of Christian gentlemen.

Above, Father Earley is asking Mark Hamilton for a note signed by his parents explaining his recent absence, while Mr. Rigney listens to another student's explanation of tardiness.

Jug

Father Carlin, the Jug-Master, is checking over the detention slips while his daily customers are busy writing an assigned composition. Judging by numbers, Jug seems to be one of the most popular extra-curricular activities at school. Anyway, it does keep the boys out of trouble for at least one hour out of the school day.

Father Greene lends a helping hand to the discipline department by making some important announcements over the P.A.

Our school secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Connor, has been at Salesian almost since its foundation. She has always been a devoted and dedicated worker. The above picture, taken as she looks up from filling out report cards, is unusual in that Mrs. Connor is rarely without a smile for everyone.

Her gentleness and kindness are well known and appreciated by all of us here at Salesian. The other picture shows our secretary as we will always remember her: The smiling, patient, and understanding Mrs. Connor.

Natural Science

Mr. Jarv Walz is giving his freshmen students a practical demonstration of the results when certain chemicals are placed into contact with one another in hopes that this will dissuade some of his more eager students from the dangers of private rocket launchings.

School Maintenance Staff

Brother Paul is a member of the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales who has dedicated his life to God as a worker. He does the repair work here at Salesian as well as at the faculty house in Indian Village.

Father Kauffman is in charge of the maintenance staff of Salesian High School. He spends most of his free time in seeing to it that the school is cleaned daily and that the windows, doors, desks and other things around the school are in good repair. This is not an easy task but Father has made it look easy by his efficiency and careful attention to details. Above, Father Kauffman is ordering a few janitor supplies for the school.

Mr. James Guthro is largely responsible for the actual daily cleaning of the classrooms and corridors. He uses any extra time he might have to help out with painting different sections of the school. Here, Mr. Guthro is in the process of cleaning one of the classrooms.

Mr. Leo Fleury is the engineer on the maintenance staff. He takes care of Salesian's heating plant. Mr. Fleury also lends a hand in the cafeteria, and during his spare time paints and helps to keep the school in good shape materially. Here, Mr. Fleury is preparing to mop and wax the gym floor.

The Knight's Code for Action!

1. "In my social life I will strive to be modest, courteous, gentle, sympathetic, and cordial, avoiding all insolence, harshness, affectation, contradiction and pretense; for, with regard to this last, men are keen to have a real knowledge of those with whom they have to deal."
2. "I will never scorn or show any sign of wishing to avoid the company of any person whatsoever, for by so doing, one earns a reputation for being proud, haughty, severe, arrogant, exclusive, ambitious and hypercritical."
3. "I will take care not to be hail-fellow-well-met with anyone, not even my most intimate friends."
4. "I will not permit myself to say or do anything but what is absolutely correct, because I might be taxed with impertinence, if I allow myself to indulge in over great familiarity."
5. Above all, I will take care not to attack or irritate anyone, not to make game of any person whatsoever; for it is sheer stupidity when, without any cause for hatred or dislike, we take to mocking those who have no reason to endure it from us."
6. "I will honor each one according to his merit or his dignity, and I will strive to bear myself with modesty."
7. "I will be mindful of the fact that there is no rule that does not have its exception, except this one: Nothing against God."

Co-Captain McLaughlin

Our right halfback, Denny McLaughlin, has the drive and courage of a real football player. The few touch-downs we made were due in great part to Denny's expert running. He helped to guide and encourage the team when the going was the roughest.

Co-Captain Maierle

Our Center, John Maierle, has the energy and determination of a tiger. He plays his best no matter what the score happens to be, and he keeps the spirit of the team high, especially when things are not going our way on the gridiron.

Jarv Walz and Emmet Mulligan, the Varsity coaches, keep close tabs on both teams in the Salesian vs. De La Salle game.

Tom Ostrowski picks up a first down in the St. Joe's game.

Trapped; This man isn't going any place if the Salesian Knights have anything to say about it.

DOCTOR CERESKO

Whether it is football or basketball you will always see the ever-faithful Doctor Ceresko on hand to watch over the physical well-being of our boys.

Above, he examines one of the Notre Dame team who was injured on a pass play.

Below, Jerry Ulewicz is determined that this is one pass that will never be completed. Looks like an elbow fight!

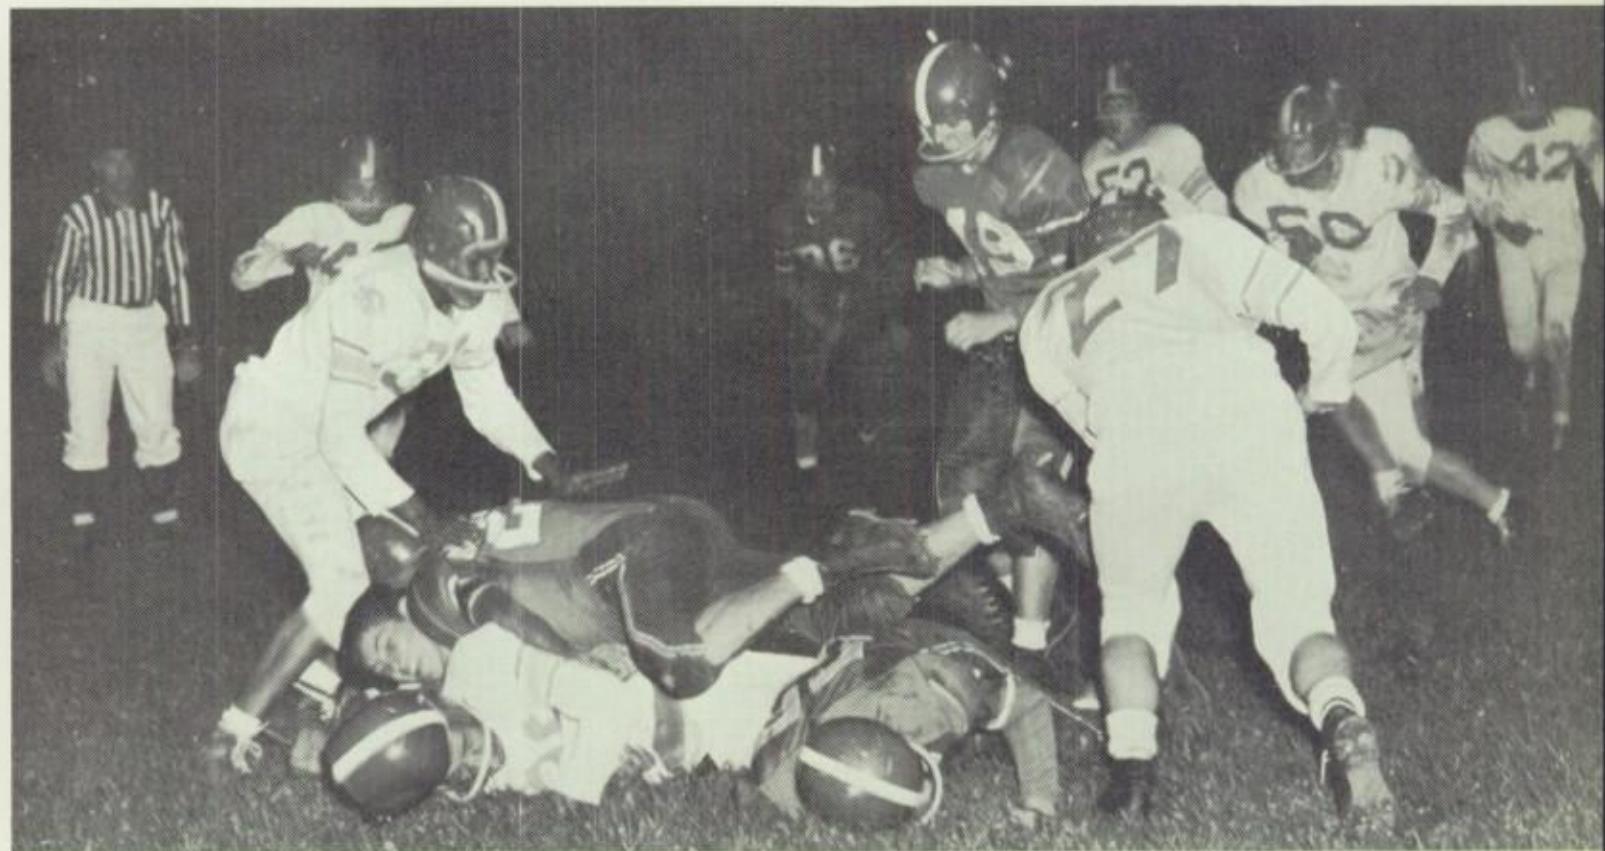

Knight's

Brozowski carries the ball around end for a nice gain in the St. Paul vs. Salesian J.V. game. Shots like this give much needed hope for the future.

On

The

Agony: We are not exactly sure just what did happen on this play, but Sam Cheeseboro and the St. Francis de Sales player on top of him are in agony. Finney just wants to be sure that nobody is going to get up.

Everybody is in on this play! The Notre Dame players are pushing one way and the Salesian players are pushing the other. It gives you a good idea of the importance of team play.

Battlefield

The Cheerleaders

Cheerleading can be and often is a very interesting extra-curricular activity. There is a special type of pleasure in being able to arouse the crowd at the right moment of a football or basketball game. Support from the student body at a crucial point in a game has often meant the difference between victory and defeat.

Joe Duk, Ken Czarnik, and Tom Ezyk did their best to arouse the student body at the right time during our closely contested athletic events.

The Crowd

The color, enthusiasm, and fun of attending any contest depend a great deal on the size of the crowd. Without the crowd, football and basketball would soon lose most of its real interest. You can see some of the faithful Salesian rooters in the picture at the right. Many of them are out of camera range. This is our salute to you, our faithful fans. Thanks!

Touchdown!

This is what the opposing crowds do all their shouting about. "We Want A Touchdown!" "We Want A Touchdown!" "We Want a Touchdown!" Well here, the St. Joe's student body must have been really pleased, since their team just scored a touchdown against the Salesian Knights.

Team of the Future

Hope Springs Eternal

In this pack of freshman and sophomore faces lie the hopes of future varsity successes. Father Toner's work with the fledglings will make the Varsity Coach's task much easier next year. Can you recognize Bielak, Sydlowski, Rachwal, O'Connor, Reid, Howard or Strenk?

The Aquatic Knights In Action

Swimming is a skill, and when perfected demands perfect body coordination. This entails many hours of hard work in the water as well as daily training rules that must be kept. Here, Gerry Graniti, Edwin Lassak and Tony Ceresko are practicing the difficult back stroke in hopes that this will net them a few extra points in the next league meet.

The need for coordination is never more evident than in diving. Although this shot is not a good example of correct style, nevertheless, it is a good example of the real need for plenty of practice, and willingness on the part of the Knights to learn from their mistakes by spending long hours of practice in the pool.

One reason for basketball being such a popular sport is the tremendous pace that it sets and the resulting interest that follows. It is a fast game calling for skill, intelligence, and quick reflexes.

Adherence to strict training regulations is a must. No smoking, plenty of sleep, and hours of intense practice are a few of the more general rules that every basketball player must keep. Student participation in basketball, as well as in other sports, trains the mind and the body. The teamwork that basketball demands is excellent for teaching boys the necessity of getting along with others. The victories, but even more so, the defeats, ordinarily make a boy capable of handling the ups and downs that are a part of everyone's life. In a word, basketball helps to mold Salesian Knights.

Basketball Plays An Important Part

Of the Court

Mr. Phillip, the head basketball coach, is new at Salesian. He came almost at the beginning of the football season and has been working with the Knights ever since. He is a hard worker himself and expects the same from those who are members of his team. This year's team is the result of his own intense efforts and although the record is not impressive, the Knights improvement both as individuals and as a working unit are most impressive. Mr. Phillip had to exercise a great deal of patience in the beginning because there were few players left from last year's team, and even these were lacking in some important basketball fundamentals. We have every reason to be both grateful and hopeful: grateful to Mr. Phillip and his very capable assistant, Mr. Sunday, for all the time they spent in training the Knights, and hopeful because we know that this year's training will produce in '59 one of the finest basketball teams Salesian ever had.

Time Out: Here, Mr. Phillip is pointing out to the players some of the mistakes they were making during the Austin game. Mr. Sunday, the assistant, watches the time-out proceeding.

Bowling

Bowling has become one of America's leading sports. It is an interesting game that demands attention and plenty of practice. This year's keglers have put plenty of time and effort into their bowling. Every Monday afternoon the team piles in the car with their moderator and off they go to spend a few hours knocking over pins. Although the '58 keglers have not won any titles, they have learned how to bowl in real competition and have enjoyed meeting the members of the other schools' bowling teams.

Tom Ostrowski, Gene Boduch, Father Schaefer (Moderator), Tom Mansfield and Gerry Kowalewski pose for our camera. The above four students are the regular members of the Varsity Bowling Team. The other member is chosen each week from among the J.V. bowlers.

Dave Schirrick, Bob Boduch, Ken Regiec, Pete Cichon and Pierre Goyette are the members of Junior Varsity Bowling Team.

Tom Mansfield has been a real pace setter for this year's bowling team. Here he shows the form that has made him a valuable member of the Varsity Team.

The Knights Receive Their Class Ring

Place: Holy Rosary Church

Father Kelly places the class ring on the finger of Mike Collins while Ivan Cotmar awaits his turn.

The Ring Mass has ended and the Ring Ceremony begins. Father Coyle, the Senior Class Moderator, first calls the names of the class officers, who will receive their rings from Father Kelly the Principal of Salesian.

Date: Wednesday, November 27, 9 A.M.

The Ring Breakfast for the Seniors and Their Parents

The Ring Ceremony is always a happy affair here at Salesian. Below, Bob Klym shows his ring to his mother, and Frank Miller and his dad look over the new ring, while everyone else is chatting and enjoying a good breakfast.

The Knights of the Altar

These dedicated students assist at all the religious exercises at Salesian. Our weekly Mass, the Stations of the Cross, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament are made more solemn by these well-trained servers.

Row 1: E. Boduch, M. Peters, J. Ptak, T. Barry, L. Sarzynski, J. Mulheisen.

The Knight-liters

Here the boys are having a real jam session in preparation for one of the school dances. The leader of this quartet is Gary Reno at the piano.

Gary Ambrozy plays the accordion, while Harry Reno gets the drums to sing, and Ron Typinski makes the saxophone hum.

The Student Council

The Student Council is composed of delegates elected by their fellow students from each of the classes at Salesian. It is one of the hardest working groups in the school and has accomplished a great deal for the welfare of Salesian High School. They sponsored a dance in January that was one of the biggest social successes of the year. The movies and the excellent assembly program are the result of their interest and planning for the student body.

Dennis McLaughlin (President), Jerry Ulewic (Vice-President), and Father Greene (Moderator) are discussing some of the future plans for the Student Council. Every organization is but the lengthened shadow of one man. This is certainly true of Father Greene, the capable and devoted moderator of the Student Council.

Rocco Perrone and his date lead the ever-favorite "Bunny Hop". Jim Doll seems to be enjoying it while Mo looks as though she is afraid of losing her shoe.

"April Love"

"26 Miles"

"The Stroll"

"Tequilla"

The Ring Dance was a social success. Can you find Gerry Zobel, Joe Bailey, Burke Kenny, Pete Cichon, Frank Miller and Roy Neme?

Jim Murphy and Tim Sullivan never miss a Salesian dance. The only objection that we have is that Jim's usual date, Miss Fitzpatrick, never misses taking half the dance decorations home with her.

"Swingin' Shepherd Blues"

"Now and For Always"

Paul Rohrig, Greg Stempien, Bob Boduch, John Pastirzyk, and their dates are having an enjoyable evening at the Yearbook Dance.

The boys and girls that attend our dances seem to prefer "record hops" to a band. With records you can always get the latest hit songs. Jerry Wagner is Salesian's own disc jockey. He has become increasingly popular with the students as he becomes more and more familiar with the usual crowd that frequents our school dances.

Dances

"Wonderful, Wonderful"

"Kewpie Doll"

"Arrivederci Rome"

"Lollipop"

It's the "Bunny Hop" again which everyone seems to enjoy. This time almost everyone stepped out on the floor.

"Twilight Time"

"School Dance"

Jerry Wagner, our Disc Jockey, is handing Jim Murphy and his date a prize for the elimination dance. Murphy and his girl are usually too busy planning the removal of the decorations to bother about winning a prize.

Time out for a Coke! John Manetta and Fred Jenuine are enjoying the manner in which Gordon Kenel is attempting to straighten out Al Pelletier on the latest happenings around Salesian.

"Oh Julie"

"Return to Me"

"Sugar Time"

"Tammy"

Jerry Dolkowski looks as though his girl is tickling him. Did you notice Father Catanzaro, Father Kauffman, and Father Toner in the back of the gym? One reason our dances have become so popular is because most of Oblate teachers drop in for a short chat before the evening is over.

The Oblate Guild

The Oblate Mission Committee

This is an interesting activity of the Oblate Guild. The members of this committee make scapulars and rosaries, and collect and repair old rosaries to send to the Oblate Missions in South Africa. This committee also manages to make new altar linens for the faculty house chapel.

The Annual Guild Card Party: Sunday Evening, November 17.

The Oblate Guild is a hard core of women who have dedicated their free time to assisting our teachers, the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales. They sponsor a card party, a rummage sale, a Christmas party for the faculty, and many other smaller affairs during the school year. The Oblates of St. Francis de Sales are deeply grateful to the members of the Oblate Guild for their hard work which so often seems to go unnoticed. The Oblates realize and recognize that this very efficiently organized guild is the source of many material blessings for the faculty house as well as the school. A new stove, books for the library, the new school sign, a much needed paint job for the faculty house, and new showers are a few of the more outstanding results of their efforts and good organization methods. We, the Seniors of '58, take this opportunity to thank the Oblate Guild for their continued interest in the welfare of the Oblates as well as the school. Thank you.

The Dad's Club

Activity, well-planned and spiritually motivated, is always productive of genuine school spirit. In this department the Salesian High School Dad's Club rates first honors. Their sponsorship of a year long father and son social program merits for them deserving praise as true Christian gentlemen. Under the inspiring leadership and conscientious guidance of the club's officers, Bud Parr (Secretary), Joe Derderian (Vice-President), Father Catanzaro (Moderator), Ralph Schenten (President), and Edward Aranowski (Treasurer), the Salesian dads and their sons have found many ways to show true parental and filial regard for one another.

Father and Son Social

Date: November 6

A father and son get-together opened the Dad's Club season of activity on November 6. Over four hundred dads and sons enjoyed an evening of wholesome entertainment, listened to some inspiring words from Father Kelly, and then feasted on hamburgers and pop. Other social events included the annual Sports Banquet on April 19, and the family excursion to Bob-lo on June 14.

The highlight of the Dad's Club social calendar is the Father and Son Communion Breakfast. On Passion Sunday, March 23, over one hundred seventy-five dads received Holy Communion together with their sons at Holy Rosary Church, and then breakfasted with them in the school gym. What better example could a dad set for his son?

The Spirit of '60

Published by the Sophomore Class

These sophomores are a really active group. At the beginning of the year, under the expert prodding of Mr. Cirullo, they began publishing a paper for their class. The Spirit of '60 is a four-page mimeographed news sheet containing facts about our athletic teams, the school dances and other social events as well as

Salesian's Science Club

The Science Club is a new addition to Salesian's extra-curricular activities. It was formed early in the year by the Physics professor, Father Toner.

Here the members are being introduced to the mysteries of sound waves by the moderator, Father Toner. The Science Club meets one afternoon each week, and due to Father's ability to arouse interest in the world about us these weekly meetings are always well attended. The Science Club has sponsored a field trip to the General Motors Technical Center, and has a few more special trips in the planning stage.

Seniors are Invited on the Science Trip

The seniors were quick to accept the invitation extended to them by the Science Club. Here, Mike Collins, John Pastirzyk, Chuck Kotsch, Dick Massey and John Maierle are about to enter the bus headed for the General Motors Technical Center.

Ben Temerowski and Bob Mullen are holding the boards in place for Gerry Kowalewski to nail down.

Bob Hoerauf, Bob Boduch and Dick Moraczewski are checking out a spotlight before they put it into place permanently.

Larry Osiwala holds a 2 x 4 so that Arny Warnock can saw it accurately.

Father Toner, the drama coach, directs Bob Hoerauf, Jerry Dolkowski, Larry Turner and Jim Bailey in the Boardwalk scene.

The Pulitzer Prize Play

May 2, 3, 4

The Stage Crew

A very important part of any play is the scenery. Salesian's stage crew, under the direction of Father Toner, works long and hard to perfect the scenery for this year's play. The settings are very ambitious for a high school production, but these boys are an ambitious crew and have managed to create the proper mood by their careful use of lights and their professional job of carpentering. Father and his crew were building these sets for over three months. The success of this year's theatrical production is assured in great part by their masterful and talented hands. Thanks fellows, for helping to make the school play a cherished memory for all of us.

"Then comes the dawn" as Jerry Dolkowski, Salesian's seasoned actor, explains a few stage facts to Charlie Murphy.

Linda Georges and Catherine Bullock, from Girls' Catholic Central, keep on their toes by watching Father Toner direct a brawl on the sidewalk.

Memorizing lines whether it be a famous poem for an English class or a school play is plenty of work. Here, Father Toner and his actors, for the first time, are practicing a new scene. Later they will discard the books and do the entire scene from memory.

"The Skin of Our Teeth"

by
THORNTON WILDER

REHEARSAL

The leads in this play are capably handled by June Dodson (Sabina), Linda Georges (Mrs. Antrobus), Jerry Dolkowski (Mr. Antrobus), Bob Hoerauf and Catherine Bullock, (children of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus).

"The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder is Salesian's first attempt at something theatrically ambitious.

Thornton Wilder is a unique playwright. He refuses to be a slave to convention or to be hampered by the confines of a stage. He has a message to tell and he uses every method imaginable to tell it. The play is a mixture of sense and nonsense, laughter and tears, farce and fantasy, Red Skelton and Aristotle. As you may have already guessed, it is a play with a serious message told in an hilarious manner.

To the young ladies from Catholic Central who cooperated with the Salesian Knights in making the production possible, may we say thank you. To Father Toner, the director and producer, and to his stage crew and faithful actors, may we also express our sincere thanks. Projects like this are the things that produce school spirit and happy memories for everyone.

The Cast:

Second row, seated: Mary Kay Hausan, June Dodson, Linda Georges and Catherine Bullock.

Third row standing: Bob Boduch, Ben Temerowski; Larry Turner, Joan Lang, Jim Bailey, Father Toner (Director and Producer), and Jerry Dolkowski.

Father Toner gives Bob Hoerauf a few important directions for this particular scene.

Rehearsal

Bob Boduch practices his part. In this scene, he points to an actor planted in the audience.

Father Toner is carrying on a conversation with Mrs. Rohrig while Father Earley and Mr. Rohrig seem to be watching the activity in another part of the gym.

Parents Meet Teachers

Mr. and Mrs. Bender discuss the intellectual progress of their son with Mr. Schimscheiner.

Some Interesting Facts Come To Light...

Mr. Rigney, the Assistant Prefect of Discipline, sets the record straight for Mrs. O'Keefe as her son, Brendan, stands by.

Mr. Scanlon and two parents seem to be having an enjoyable conversation. This is not always true at the P.T.A. meetings.

P.T.A. Raises Funds for Science Equipment

This year the Annual P.T.A. Card Party was staged to raise funds for the Biology, Chemistry, and Physics laboratories. The planning and effort that they put into this venture made this card party the biggest financial and social success in the history of the school.

This is the Executive Board of the Parent-Teacher Association. They are elected to their respective offices annually by all the parents who have sons attending Salesian High School. Father Kelly, the Principal, is also the moderator of this enterprising group.

Mr. Rohrig (President) and Mr. Brice (Chairman of the Card Party) discuss final arrangements for the big Annual P.T.A. Card Party.

The mothers take care of feeding the large turn-out for the card party. Here they are preparing and testing the coffee.

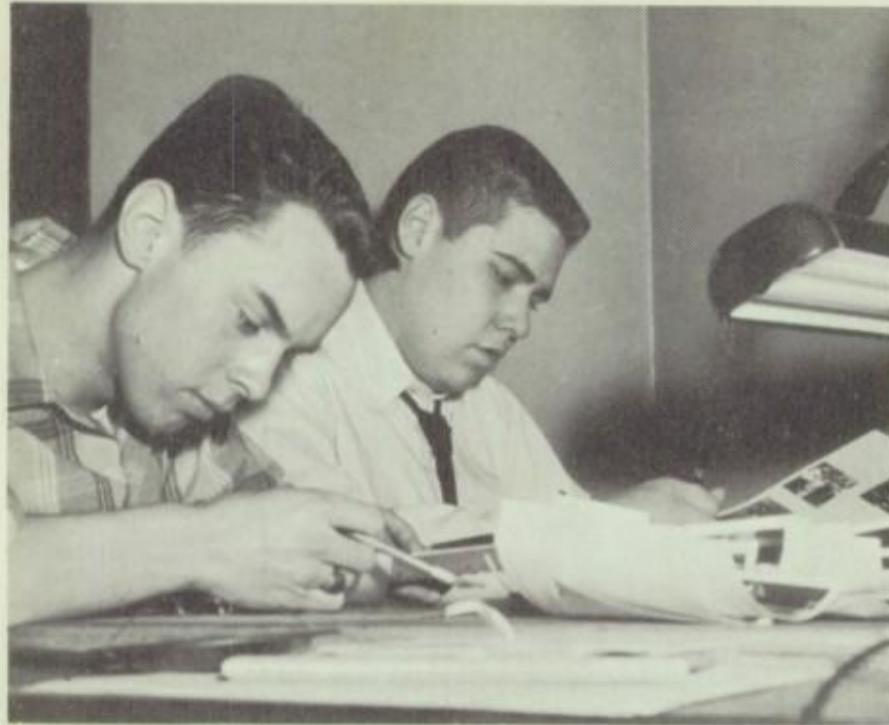

The card party was a huge success. Here, Father Kelly talks to a few Salesian supporters who enjoy a good game of cards.

Pinochle is a national pastime. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Bordas and Mrs. Pastirzyk and a friend are enjoying a night out for cards.

The Staff of the '58 Saldet

John Pastirzyk and Dick Massey are working on the '58 Saldet in the yearbook room. John and Dick are the co-editors of the '58 Saldet.

Yearbooks are always nice to look at, but few people realize the amount of time and effort that is spent in their production. Every extra-curricular activity as well as every regular school event must be fully covered. This entails quite a bit more time than most people would be willing to give. Its preparation begins as soon as last year's yearbook is published and doesn't end until April of the following year. Dates, names, places, events, everything must be as accurate as possible. Once the photographs are shot, pictures must be made to fit the yearbook plans. These pictures must be accurately cut, pasted evenly on a special piece of paper. When the pasting is completed, then begins the hard work of telling the story of the photographs in words. When the copy has been written and typed on special sheets, it must be proof read for possible mistakes. This being done, the entire book is handed over to the publisher who sets the type and returns the entire book for proof reading once again.

The financing of a yearbook is a special project in itself. The student body obtains the patrons, boosters and ads, but then the staff must check each of these and keep an accurate account of the money turned in for the book. These are just a few reasons why the names on this page are so important. This yearbook is their work.

Benny Edelbrock is drawing a picture of the Knight that appears in this issue of the yearbook.

Ben Bartnicke is the student photographer for the '58 Saldet. He was given a great deal of assistance by the photographers at Craine Studios for which we are all grateful. Here he is taking a picture of the P.T.A. Card Party.

Dennis Marquis, Bernie Parker, John Pastirzyk, Dick Massey and Father Coyle are busy planning some of the pages for the Saldet.

The Senior Prom

Lovett Hall, Greenfield Village, Dearborn.

Friday Evening, April 25, 9 to 12.

Dick Clark with his date and Al Rickert with his date had this picture taken on the beautiful grounds of Greenfield Village just outside Lovett Hall.

Mrs. Ezyk helps the seniors out with a little bit of punch. Al Rickert, John Clark, and Bob Burke are avidly waiting for two more so that they can return to their dates.

The Senior Prom is always a big night in a senior's life. This year's prom was no exception. The seniors enjoyed a night of dancing to the delightful musical notes of Jack Stevenson and his band.

One of the nice things about a prom is meeting the faculty outside the ordinary classroom circumstances. Here, Father Burke, Father Greene, Father Earley, and Father Fleck are taking their turn at the punch bowl.

The Annual Retreat Monday, Tuesday and

Wednesday of Holy Week

The Retreat Master

The Very Reverend James V. O'Neill, O.S.F.S., is presently the superior of the Bishop Duffy High School Faculty in Niagara Falls, New York.

Father O'Neill flew in from Buffalo, New York, for our annual retreat and from the attentive faces above, it is evident that Father gave a good lift to the spiritual life of the Salesian Knights. Father will be remembered for a long time at Salesian for his interesting conferences peppered with some wholesome humor. Thanks Father, for your interest, your wit, and your Salesian zeal.

Father Greene directs the retreatants to the communion rail in Holy Rosary Church, while Father Toner distributes the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Christ to the Knights.

Father O'Neill was available to anyone who wanted to talk over their personal problems with him during the three day retreat. Here, Fred Jenuwine stops in for a little chat with the retreat master.

Silence is one of the first rules of any retreat. A retreat is really a talk with God, and no one can hear God unless he is silent. This year's retreat was one of the finest ever held in our school because the students were most faithful in keeping the rule of silence. Here, the boys are eating their breakfast and the only noise that can be heard is the crunching of bags.

The Baccalaureate Mass and Breakfast

HOLY ROSARY CHURCH, 9:15 A.M.

At the right, Father Kelly is speaking to the graduating class at the Annual Baccalaureate Mass attended by the seniors and their parents. He spoke to them about the difficulties and troubles that would be present in their lives and the importance of never losing sight of the Christian values they received here at Salesian. The flowers and palms on the altar added to the impressiveness of the seniors' last Mass as students of Salesian High School.

The picture above is the main table at the Baccalaureate Breakfast held in our own school gym. Notice the senior officers and their parents being waited on by Bob Klym.

The Junior Class sponsors the Annual Baccalaureate Breakfast. They raise the funds for the breakfast during the year and are responsible for cleaning and polishing the gym, setting the tables and finally waiting on the seniors and their parents on the big day. There is more than a little work involved in making an affair like this the success that it has been. The juniors have shown that they have what it takes to make any affair classy. To the right is a picture of the sixteen junior waiters.

No formal affair can have much success without a woman's touch. Here are four of the nine junior mothers who worked in the kitchen during the breakfast. They managed the setting and the decoration of tables, the making of the coffee and the cooking of the country sausage. Afterwards, they directed the washing and the drying of all the dishes. From left to right: Mrs. Maierle, Mrs. Sauvage, Mrs. Murphy, and Mrs. Leen.

Thursday Morning, June 5

The success of the Annual Baccalaureate Breakfast is evident from this view of the two hundred and fifty graduates and their parents.

Graduation Exercises

On this, the night of our last official act as students of Salesian High School, we, the Class of '58, salute the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales who have been our faithful teachers during these past four years. Many of the lessons you taught us through the years may well be forgotten before too long, but one lesson will never be forgotten and that is your patience and good humor in dealing with our teen-age problems and attitudes. You have never taught us what to think so much as how to think. Your efforts were directed toward teaching us how to live in peace, first with God and then how to live in peace with our neighbor. Although we rarely express our appreciation we do want you to know that, nevertheless, each one of us is eternally appreciative of your own high ideals and your zeal in helping us to share them. Thank you, Fathers, and may the Good Lord continue to bless your work among the youth of America!

Father Kelly congratulates Tom Andrews who has just received his diploma. Mr. Edward H. Kelley and Father Earley are assisting Father Kelly in the presentation of diplomas.

Father Kelly says a few parting words to the Class of '58.

Mr. Edward H. Kelley, Manufacturing Manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, is giving an inspiring talk to the graduates about their future in a world that waits for their leadership.

Senior Farewell Dance, Saturday Evening, June 7

The Class of '59 sponsors a dance in honor of the new graduates.

A Farewell Message from the Rector

The Oblates of St. Francis De Sales are proud of the Graduating Class of '58. We shall always follow zealously your future and we wish God's blessings on all of your undertakings. We pray that you will always remember your training at Salesian and make it a prominent part of your life so that you will always be a "gallant knight". Your main task is to spread the knowledge of God, His love and His laws by your word and example. This will be a source of inspiration to others and it will render a most precious service to your country. It will be your diploma for all eternity. May God be with you!

Walter E. Kelly, O.S.F.S.

During the Yearbook Drive, John Pastirzyk and Dick Massey (Co-editors), kept the seniors informed as to each one's individual progress in raising funds for the yearbook.

The Winners: Seven prizes were offered to those who raised the most money for the yearbook. A watch, an electric razor, an expensive pen and pencil set, together with cash awards were won by the students pictured above. In the order of their winnings: John Pastirzyk, Tom Leen, Mike Eyl, Gordon Kenel, Joe Sadowski, Bob Boduch and Ed Drabyszewski.

Denny McLaughlin, Jim Murphy, and Denny Marquis are checking over the prizes with Mr. Al Weatherly before the yearbook assembly.

The '58 Yearbook

Drive

JANUARY 6 to JANUARY 25

No yearbook has ever seen the light of day without the strong support of all the student body. This is certainly true of this year's Saldet. Although the responsibility of raising the funds for the yearbook at Salesian rests on the shoulders of the Senior Class, nevertheless, every student's cooperation is carefully and anxiously sought.

At the beginning of the year, the seniors held a class meeting at which an estimated cost for this year's publication was presented for their vote. They were told that each senior, with the help of any underclassmen he could interest, had to raise thirty-five dollars. When the vote was taken, every senior raised his hand in support of raising the necessary money through patrons, ads, and boosters, for publishing the '58 Saldet.

On January 7, the seniors called an assembly for the whole school. Mr. Al Weatherly, the yearbook publisher, told the students the problems and costs of producing a yearbook. Father Coyle, the yearbook moderator, offered prizes to those who raised the highest amounts for the drive, and each boy in the school was given five booster-patron slips. The rest is history. The drive was slow moving at first but it began to pick up in the last week. Although we didn't reach our goal, we were able to go on with our plans due to the original commitment of the Senior Class.

We, the Seniors of '58, wish to express our sincere thanks to each and every student who helped raise funds for the '58 Saldet. Your earnest support has greatly reduced our own financial obligations. Thank you!

A WORD OF THANKS is due to you, our advertisers: It is really your financial assistance that has made this record of our school life possible. The Class of '58 is indebted to each of the businesses, organizations, and persons whose name appears on the following pages. Thank You!

Typography:

We have selected a type face suited to our theme . . . using Century Old Style and Bold in all body copy and, to show that we are modern knights, we have selected Futura for our heads and sub-headings. Century was out many years ago and still remains one of the most legible type faces. Futura was put out in the 1940's and while many versions have been created from the original cutting, we have, because of our theme, kept the original version.
